Document Express–SaM Solutions Make Ordering Docs a One-Click Process

Goal is to create a sophisticated technology platform that ‘alleviates data-quality concerns.’

OCALA, Fla. and PALATINE, Ill. – June XX, 2011 – A recent Document Express, Inc.–SaM Solutions US partnership makes ordering initial disclosures, loan closing documents, predatory lending/high cost analysis and flood determinations as easy for mortgage loan originators as one click of a mouse.

Document Express will embed its document preparation solution, DX Elite Series, within SaM Solutions’ Engage, a loan origination and processing system designed for lenders of any size to deploy from the initial application to the funding stage of a mortgage.

“Our aim was to create a simple-to-use, one-stop shop for services, and provide a flexible yet sophisticated technology that alleviates data-quality concerns,” said Michael Chaney, Vice President of Sales for Document Express. “The benefit to clients is that they have access to an embedded and integrated platform that does not require the rekeying of data, an approach that ensures that data-quality remains top notch.”

“This partnership means that lenders will have access to the next generation of loan origination systems, one that is several steps ahead of the competition, and a platform that is flexible, intuitive, web-based, and easy to customize,” said Aaron Cope, Head of Operations at SaM Solutions US “This deal combines the best of breed in terms of document management and cutting-edge loan origination systems.”

These firms have begun to demonstrate the platform to lenders, who have come away impressed because the partnership ensures accuracy and eliminates errors that can be expensive or that slow down the mortgage process.

“Given the challenging times in the mortgage market, lenders are aware that they need to reduce errors to save money, and the seamless automation that we provide through this agreement meets their needs extremely well,” said Chaney.

“They have been impressed with the flexibility of the system because, among other things, it is adaptable, easy to implement and is customizable to the needs of the lender,” said Cope.
